Product Description

Daler Rowney Palette Knife

- Daler Rowney Palette Knives have a special electrolytic coating that is unique in the fine art market. This additional coating results in a product that is more resistant to rust than all other carbon steel palette knives.
- All Daler Rowney Palette Knives are a perfect blend of quality and elegance for the discerning artist. The polished blade is complemented with a brass ferrule and a beautiful polished hardwood handle.
- Guaranteed for the lifetime of an artist.
- Made in Italy by the most accomplished producer of palette knives in the world.

Due to the special low-friction coating:

- Colours are easier to spread than with other conventional carbon palette knives.
- The blade is easier to clean even if the colour has already dried (however, cleaning after use is always recommended).
- After cleaning, there is no residue left behind (residue is often left behind on carbon steel)
